Establishment and Maintenance of
State and Federal Standards

The Department of Health and Environmental Sciences is the State authority responsible for establishing and maintaining standards other than those relating to health, for public or private institutions. These standards are mandated through public law of the State of Montana. Regulations extending from these public laws are incorporated in the Administrative Codes whereby the Department of Health and Environmental Sciences must follow.

The Administrative Codes are on file and available to the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services.

There are standards that related to the following subject: (1) Alcohol Services, (2) Health Education, (3) Nursing, (4) Occupational Health, (5) Solid Wastes, (6) Water and air quality, (7) Dental Health, (8) Maternal and Child Health Services, (9) Preventive Health Services, and (10) Public Buildings.
